TODAY'S READINGS

First Reading — "Holy, holy, holy is the Lord of hosts! All the earth is filled with his glory!" (Isaiah 6:1-2a, 3-8)

Psalm — "When I called, you answered me; you built up strength within me." (Ps 138:1-2,2-3,4-5,7-8)

Second Reading — "But by the grace of God I am what I am, and his grace to me has not been ineffective" (1 Cor 15:1-11)

Gospel — "When they brought their boats to the shore, they left everything and followed him." (Luke 5:1-11)

St Scholastica— St Scholastica was born c. 480 in Nursia, Umbria, to wealthy parents. She is the sister of St. Benedict of Nursia and is regarded as the foundress of the Benedictine order of nuns. St. Scholastica established a hermitage about five miles from Monte Cassino and that this was the first convent of Benedictine nuns. The most commonly told story about her is that Scholastica would, once a year, go and visit her brother at a place near his abbey, and they would spend the day worshipping together and discussing sacred texts and issues. One time while they were together, Benedict indicated it was time for him to leave, and she asked him to stay and he declined. At that point, Scholastica closed her hands in prayer, and after a moment, a wild storm started outside of the guest house in which they were staying. Benedict was unable to return to his monastery, and they spent the night in discussion. St Scholastica died 3 days later and Benedict had her body brought to his monastery, where he had it laid in the tomb which he had prepared for himself. St Scholastica is the patron of education and her feast day is February 10th.
